DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 5, 6 and 21-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 21, line 16, “may be” is indefinite.

In claim 5, it is not clear how the step of taking an action by the first wearer is being “assisted” by the second packet of information.

Claim Objections

2. Claim 20 is objected to because of the following informalities: in the penultimate line, “know” perhaps should be recited as “known”. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

Art Unit: 2636

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 21-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Lightman et al. (US Patent No. 6,711,414).

Claim 21:

Lightman discloses a wearable electronic display unit for displaying images and for communicating with other similar wearable displays, comprising:

- a. A first display unit 200 having a visible display adapted to be worn by a first person 302, the visible display being capable of displaying text and graphical images, the first display unit containing information relating to the first person's social network database and the first unit having the capability to compare data from social network databases; and
- b. A short range (col. 6, lines 36-54), substantially unidirectional electronic communication channel having a data transmitting and receiving interface incorporated in the first display unit and located in a location on the first display unit so that, when the first display unit is worn by a wearer, the interface faces in a direction of the substantially unidirectional communication so as to make electronic communication possible with a second person who also is wearing a second display unit, the second display unit containing information relating to the second person's social network database and also having the capability to compare data from social network databases, whereby data relating to each person's social network database can be exchanged between respective display units worn by the two persons through the interfaces on the respective display units, and the social network databases of the two persons may be compared in one of the display units and the results displayed on one of the display units (col. 5, last paragraph).

See col. 3, line 66 to col. 4, line 23; col. 5, line 15 to col. 6, line 54; col. 8, lines 12-67; and col. 9, lines 1-46.

Claim 22:

The electronic communication channel transmits and receives an infrared beam (col. 6, lines 36-54).

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 1-4, and 7-20 are allowed.
6. Claims 21-23 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action.
7. Claims 5, 6, and 23 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
8. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

No prior arts have been found to fairly teach or suggest the display text information on the display unit of the second wearer expressing commonalities between the social networks of the two wearers based upon the comparison between the first packet of information received from the first display unit in the second display and second packet of information in the second display unit as claimed in claim 1 and the display text information on the display unit of the second wearer displays information relating to people known in common by the two wearers as claimed in claim 20.

9. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
